Suggestions and Expectations

This curriculum unit can be used in a variety of ways. Each chapter of the novel study focuses on two chapters of The River and is comprised of five different activities:

- Before You Read
- Vocabulary Building
- Comprehension Questions
- Language Activities
- Extension Activities

Links with the Common Core Standards (U.S.)

Many of the activities included in this curriculum unit are supported by the Common Core Standards. For instance the Reading Standards for Literature, Grade 5, makes reference to

- a) determining the meaning of words and phrases. . . including figurative language;
- b) explaining how a series of chapters fits together to provide the overall structure;
- c) compare and contrast two characters;
- d) determine how characters . . . respond to challenges;
- e) drawing inferences from the text;
- f) determining a theme of a story . . . and many others.

A principal expectation of the unit is that students will develop their skills in reading, writing, listening and oral communication, as well as in reasoning and critical thinking. Students will also be expected to provide clear answers to questions and well-constructed explanations. It is critical as well that students be able to relate events and the feelings of characters to their own lives and experiences and describe their own interpretation of a particular passage.

A strength of the unit is that students can work on the activities at their own pace. Every activity need not be completed by all students. A portfolio cover is included (p.7) so that students may organize their work and keep it all in one place. A Student Checklist is also included (p.6) so that a record of completed work may be recorded.

Themes which may be taught in conjunction with the novel include: wilderness survival, personal initiative and responsibility, selflessness, and adjusting to new and difficult circumstances.

Synopsis

The River is the exciting sequel to Brian Paulsen's bestselling novel, Hatchet.

Brian is contacted by government researchers who propose that Brian reenact his survival experience - this time taking Derek, a psychologist, along to record their experiences. Derek is convinced that Brian's experiences will help others survive such wilderness ordeals.

With Brian's parents' reluctant permission, he and Derek are dropped off at a remote lake, not far from Brian's former adventures. Brian insists that only an emergency radio and a couple of knives are left behind with them.

During the first few days the two survivalists find events to be proceeding smoothly - too smoothly for Brian's liking, however this comes to a shattering end when their camp is struck by lightning and Derek is seriously injured. Unable to revive his friend from unconsciousness, and with their radio inoperative, Brian realizes he must get Derek to civilization. Using a map he discovers in Derek's suitcase, Brian determines that he might be able to reach a trading post located about a hundred miles away, by journeying down a nearby river.

Brian quickly assembles a raft, straps Derek aboard and guides the water-logged craft on a harrowing trip down the Bowtie River to the trading post where emergency help is summoned for Derek.
